His Ashes Under a Rosebush.

The poetic element in the character of the late C. Jerome Cary, whose body has been cremated at Detroit, will find lasting and beautiful expression if his wishes are carried out.

It was his oft expressed desire that his ashes should be given to his intimate friend, C. C. Whitman, the florist, to be buried beneath a rosebush of a variety of which he was particularly fond. Only his very intimate friends know that Mr. Cary was passionately fond of flowers, and of roses in particular. He was in the habit of spending a great deal of time among Mr. Whitman's flowers, and the latter was well acquainted with the poetic side of his nature. To him Mr. Cary frequently confided his thoughts, and he will know how best to carry out his wish.

Mr. Whitman will place the urn containing Mr. Cary's ashes in a spot which he will select in his greenhouse, and plant over it a rosebush in such a position that the roots will strike down into it. He will sink a brick wall around it, to keep other roots from striking it, so that only the rosebush will reach the ashes. Mr. Whitman will plant a small Le Marchant rose, of which variety Mr. Cary was very fond, and he will nurse it carefully until it becomes a tree. This variety of rose grows to a height of ten or twelve feet and blossoms profusely. It is said that at this time of the year a full grown tree will have from 1,000 to 3,000 blossoms.—Milwaukee Wisconsin.

Can See His Brain Pulsate.

A remarkable surgical case was that of little Charlie Fisher, who was recently discharged from the Eastern District hospital, Brooklyn. The little patient, while riding with his grandfather on Bedford avenue a week or two ago, received a fracture of the skull and was so seriously injured that he was despatched.

The horse, rearing up, kicked over the dashboard, his left foot striking Charlie's forehead. The three-year-old boy was taken from the carriage immediately after the accident in an unconscious state. An ambulance was summoned and Surgeon Gifford took him to the hospital without an idea that he would ever recover consciousness—the boy's skull was so horribly mangled. But House Surgeon Orrell worked hard, taking broken fragments of skull from the wound for three or four hours.

In all, fifty-six little pieces of skull were taken from the child's forehead, and there is now a round circle about the size of a fifty cent piece over the right eye where the brain is exposed. Its pulsation can plainly be seen. If the patient had been older a recovery, the doctors say, would not have been so remarkable.—New York Advertiser.

Electricity in Mining a Big Success.

The steady and successful operation of the Gold King stamp mill at Telluride, Colo., by electrical power, from the last of May, 1891, to the present, has been of incalculable benefit, not only to the mining interests of San Miguel, but to those of the state and country in general. It has never been operated a winter through before, but run the past year twenty-four hours per day and six days in the week from the time it started up. During the time the total stoppage of the mill by reason of the deficiency of power has averaged less than sixteen minutes per day, and of the whole amount of time lost 80 per cent, has been due to necessary work on the turbines and in changing the source of the water supply for mill purposes. Its success has inspired confidence in investors, and its first fruits are seen in the letting of the contract for the building of a 130-stamp mill on Bear creek.—Helena Journal.

Salt in Egypt.

A discovery of salt, which seems likely to have important consequences, has been made by the officers of the Egyptian salt department twenty or thirty miles west of Minieh, a point on the Nile about 150 miles up the river from Cairo. Specimens of the salt show that it is of very fine quality. The deposit is said to extend over an area of 1,000 acres, and the department is about to make a further survey of it.—Chicago Tribune.

A Tripple Wedding Feast.

A unique tripple wedding feast was enjoyed in a Bohemian village early last month, when a young couple were married on the same day that the parents of the bridegroom celebrated their silver wedding and his grandparents their golden wedding. On the same day a diamond wedding was celebrated at Heiligenkreuz, near Vienna.

Electric Stamp Canceling Machines.

Four electrical machines are to be set at work in the Chicago postoffice, and electricity will soon cut a very large figure in the handling of letters. Each machine will cancel 25,000 letters per hour. The motive power is electricity. The four machines will perform the work of sixteen men.

No Luck In This Horsehoe.

Some time ago a St. Louis man nailed a horsehoe over the door of his house for good luck. Tuesday the man was about entering his home a bolt of lightning struck him and knocked him senseless. It transpired later that the electric current had first passed through the horsehoe.

Our dear little daughter was terribly sick. Her bowels were bloated as hard as a brick. We feared she would die.

PRICE OF DAILY JOURNAL, FIFTEEN CENTS PER WEEK SATURDAY, JUNE 4, 1892

BREVITIES. Frank Poor is in from Bidwell. Next week is commencement week. A lady desires a position. See ad. Silver bullion has appreciated a notch. J. P. Foulks of Verdi visited Reno yesterday. The Verdi school closes on the 16th of this month. L. P. Wardell was a passenger from Virginia last night. Use Mollins after peeling vegetables; all stains disappear. You will be much surprised at the results of using Winterville. Mr. Bristol has completed his residence in Powning's Addition. Eugene Howell of Eureka, Nevada, has been in town several days. R. L. Horton, State Controller, came down from Carson last night. There are only 2,300 shares of the new investment company taken. The new invest company secured a large number of subscribers yesterday. Evan Williams will be at Minneapolis during the Republican Convention. Alf Doten has a letter full of good words for Reno in yesterday's Enterprise. Con. Virginia shipped $50,175 23 worth of bullion to the Carson Mint in May. Bargains in refrigerators, lawn mowers and garden hose at Lange & Schmitt's. The foundation of E. Barber's residence in Powning's Addition has been completed. Plumbing, tinning and pipe work done at the lowest possible prices by Lange & Schmitt. The graduating ball of the University will be one of the events of the season socially. The walls of the Marten building on Virginia street are under course of construction. Tremore Coffin returned from Pioche and was a passenger for Carson yesterday morning. The Guards will in all probability accept the invitation to celebrate in Carson on the 4th of July. The survey of the High Line ditch is progressing finely, and is being made most carefully. Sam Jones, the Virginia City mining superintendent, came down from the Comstock last night. The Twenty-third Rehearsal of the Bishop's School will take place on the evening of June 15th. H. E. Rhodes and Miss Mary Rhodes went through Reno yesterday morning on their way to Long Valley. John Sherman is presenting the anomaly of carrying water on both shoulders as regards the silver question. J. N. Evans left for the Southern country yesterday by private conveyance armed and equipped for camping out. J. T. Neergard has made application to the Secretary of State for the privilege of opening and insurance business in Nevada. A prominent real estate dealer says it is impossible to get property for prices the same as it was offered for three weeks ago. D. A. Bender, who was the alternate of W. T. Smith of Elko county, went to Minneapolis, as Mr. Smith was unable to attend. Senator Folsom of Douglas, Senator T. B. Ricker of Ormsby and Supt. of Public Instruction Ring all came in on the V. & T. last night. The graduation classes have all passed their final examinations at the University. In the different courses there will be about twenty graduates. A number of young men are deeply interested in the New Improvement Company. It is a good thing for a young man to invest money in. Professor Schurman, one time talked of as President of the University of California, has been selected as the successor of President Adams of Cornell. Harry and Ray Baker of San Francisco came up yesterday morning and after remaining over all day, continued on to Eureka where they will remain several weeks. The Amadeo Geyer ventures the assertion there is more money in circulation in the new town "by the lake" than any place in this State of five times its population. The Geyer says twenty-five thousand head of sheep belonging to the Flannigan Bros., of Pyramid, have been corralled at Amadeo for the past ten days undergoing the clipping process. The Bulletin says Mrs. Sarah Althea Terry is growing worse mentally, though her physical condition is improved. She is not violent, but noisy. She talks to herself a great deal, and is careless about her personal appearance. The tickets to the University Commencement Ball, admitting gentlemen and lady, have been placed at $1. They may be obtained at the University Library or at John Sunderland's upon presentation of an invitation. Supper will be served in the hall at $1.50 a couple. The recent bulletin on the subject of creameries, just issued by the Agricultural Experiment Station, is a credit to the ingenuity and a great benefit to the people of the State. The work being accomplished by the University in this line is of incalculable benefit to Nevada.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL. The National Silver Convention-Speeches by prominent men-The Silver Cause Gaining Ground. Washington, D. C., May 29, 1892. Editor JOURNAL.-The second National Silver Convention has assembled, done its work and adjourned. It brought together a body of men respectable in members and eminently superior in ability. They came from all parts of the country, and upon political questions generally represented every shade of opinion. Judge Morris of Indiana was elected temporary Chairman, and upon taking the chair read a long and carefully written essay on bi-metalism and the evils which had followed the demonization of silver in this country. The convention was permanently organized by the selection of Gen. Warner of Ohio as permanent Chairman and quite a list of Vice Presidents, of whom Hon. Geo. S. Nixon of Wisconsin was one. BRILLIANT AND KARNEST SPEAKERS. The meetings of the convention were characterized by an intense earnestness of purpose, and many of the speeches were of a high order. Occasionally an enthusiastic member "slopped over" and indulged in denunciation rather than argument; but in the main the addresses were calm, thoughtful and scholarly. Speeches were made by Senators Jones, Stewart, Teller and Representatives Bland, Bartine, Pierce and other members of the House and by Warner, Sheldon, Newlands and many other delegates. All were received with unbounded enthusiasm, and when some war horse who had stood in the midst of the great Congressional fight appeared the convention fairly went wild. The first speech made after a permanent organization had been effected was by Congressman Bryan, the brilliant young member from Nebraska, whose late speech on the "Tariff" attracted universal attention. He was called upon by Gen. Warner, a representative Democrat. Mr. Bryan is a fine speaker and on this occasion, while his speech was necessarily brief, he did himself full justice and was heartily applauded. He was immediately followed by Mr. Bartine, who was called upon by the Chairman as a leading Republican representative of the cause and acknowledged authority upon the important questions involved. Mr. Bartine followed Mr. Bryan's example and spoke briefly, but it is doubtful if he ever spoke better or to more thoroughly appreciative audience. His remarks were concise, clean out and directly to the point; and when he declared that while he remained in Congress, whether that time was long or short, the Convention could count on one member who would stand by the cause to the end. He was cheered to the echo. Senators Jones and Stewart were both of them peculiarly happy in their remarks. They were fresh from the Senate chamber where the silver bill had just been taken up for consideration, and their reception amounted to a perfect ovation in each case. Senator Teller appeared in the hall shortly after he had delivered a speech in which he literally roasted the gold bugs of the Senate, and his reception was fully on a parity of those of Jones and Stewart. Pierce of Tennessee, usually spoken of as Bland's right hand bower on the Democratic side, one of the truest silver men in the House, made a splendid and impassioned speech that fairly carried the Convention by storm. Stark of Ohio, Sheldon of Connecticut and Symes of Colorado read very able papers upon the subject, and Francis G. Newlands also made an excellent speech, in which he followed much the same lines of argument as those in his former addresses. SILVER LEAGUE ORGANIZED. But the work of the Convention was not confined to mere speech making. The resolutions adopted were of the most pronounced character, and a Bi-metallic League was formed which must become a most potent factor in the settlement of this great question. The selection of General Warner as the President of the League was a most happy one. He is a man who has studied the question in all its bearing, of the ability, unquestioned personal integrity, and having no connection, whatever, with silver mining, is not open even to the suspicion of being actuated by selfish motives. SILVER GAINING GROUND. Taken all in all, the situation has materially improved within the last few days. The resurrection of silver in the Senate has filled the politicians with alarm, they see the determination of its advocates and that there are many leaders in both parties who will not permit the issue to be buried. If the bill passes the Senate it is almost certain to pass the House. That of course cannot take place before the Minneapolis Convention is held, but enough has already occurred to arouse the most intense anxiety in the minds of those who are assuming to lead, and without venturing into the field of prophecy, I feel safe in saying that silver is gaining ground. Too Much Holiday. Got him off the even track and brought on a fresh attack of indigestion and dyspepsia. It was Simmons Liver Regulator that cured this time. It never fails. You want to keep it on hand also for any bilious attack, or for Constipation. It is the emergency remedy, unlike pills in the effect. No gripings, and does not debilitate. Try it once. Senior Rep. The Class of '92, Reno High School, purpose to enjoy themselves and entertain their friends on Friday evening, June 24-the evening after their graduation exercises. They will have a full orchestra, and the young people of Reno will be out in force to enjoy the pleasures in store for them. A full announcement will be made in a few days. Would it not be a good idea to give the trees in the park a little more water? The soil in which they are planted is not the best and they will need lots of water. It would be a pity to see them die.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.-Latest U. S. Gov't Report. Royal Baking Powder ABSOLUTELY PURE

THE REDUCTION WORKS. The Stamps to be Hung Up for a Season. We are informed from a reliable source that the Reduction Works will hang up its stamps this evening. The business of milling ores on the Truckee river will cease at least for a few weeks, but it is expected that arrangements will be perfected in a short time so that business will be resumed. Mr. Beck informs us that Mr. Farrington has met with so many reverses in mining operations during the last four years that he is to-day without capital to prosecute his mining and milling operation any further. The Reduction Works, which were rebuilt by Mr. Beck for Mr. Farrington during the last six months, were yesterday turned over to Mr. Beck as his sole property in payment for advances made in rebuilding and otherwise. In a few days Mr. Farrington will leave Reno for the Southern mining country to start anew and we are proud to say that the best wishes of everyone who knows Archie Farrington will go with him, for he is certainly one who has fought nobly for the best interests of Nevada, and, unlike others who made fortunes in our State, he spent his last dollar in fighting in favor of our principle industry-silver mining. The low price of silver and high rates of freight on ores have been almost the direct cause of the financial failure of Mr. Farrington. Mr. Beck thinks he will in a few weeks be in shape to start the works again and believes that if the railways will make a concession in favor of lower rates on low grade ores that the enterprise of milling on the Truckee can be made a permanent industry.

FOSTER'S WEATHER FORECASTS. Storm Waves Due-Warmer Weather than Usual and a Late Fall. Copyrighted 1892 by W. T. Foster. ST. JOSEPH, Mo., June 3. My last bulletin gave forecasts of the storm waves to cross the Continent from June 1st to 5th and 7th to 12th. The next will reach the Pacific Coast about the 11th, cross the Western mountains by the close of the 12th, the Great Central Valleys from the 14th to 15th, and the Eastern States about the 16th. Drier weather may be expected in the Gulf and Atlantic States, with an increase of rain in the highlands of Colorado, Wyoming and Montana. States south of the 40th degree of north latitude in the Great Central Valleys will show a continued average deficiency in rainfall with excess of rain in only a few localities. The upper Missouri and upper Mississippi Valleys will have sufficient moisture for the crops with a few exceptions. The storms of June will continue to be of the tornado, water spout, hurricane hail, and thunder storm varieties. Rains will come in showers and not in general rainstorms. First frosts in the Fall will be late, and there will be an abundance of time for late crops to mature. The greatest danger to crops, as long ago announced, will be drought in various places south of the 40th degree of north latitude. June, July and August will be warmer than the average of these months, and the storm centers and severe local storms will take routes well to the north.

A LUCKY ESCAPE. Two Ladies and a Child Thrown From a Buggy. Last evening as Mrs. William Cruse was out driving with her 21-months-old child and her sister, an accident occurred which for a while looked as if it might have resulted seriously. When opposite the First National Bank on Second street, a horse and cart ahead of Mrs. Cruse's buggy stopped suddenly to keep from running against some ladies who were crossing Second street. The wheel of Mrs. Cruse's buggy caught in the cart wheel and upset the buggy. Mrs. Cruse dropped the lines to save her child, and the two ladies and child were thrown violently on the street. Officer Green and G. E. Holsworth, who arrived on the scene, assisted the ladies to Dr. Fleming's office. Fortunately neither the baby nor ladies were seriously injured, though all were badly frightened. The horse ran down Second street and was caught near Chinatown.

The population of the city of Rome, which by the census of 1881 was 273,000, is now over 500,000, having nearly doubled within the past ten years. Since the city became the capital of United Italy thousands of new edifices have been built and it has been greatly changed otherwise. The seven hills themselves are undergoing a process of leveling and the valleys are being filled in. Everybody is asking if the Salt Lake Tribune has been dosed with Wall street medicine.

"August Flower"

I had been troubled five months with Dyspepsia. The doctors told me it was chronic. I had a fullness after eating and a heavy load in the pit of my stomach. I suffered frequently from a Water Brash of clear matter. Sometimes a deathly Sickness at the Stomach would overtake me. Then again I would have the terrible pains of Wind Colic. At such times I would try to belch and could not. I was working then for Thomas McHenry, Druggist, Cor. Irwin and Western Ave., Allegheny City, Pa., in whose employ I had been for seven years. Finally I used August Flower, and after using just one bottle for two weeks, was entirely relieved of all the trouble. I can now eat things I dared not touch before. I would like to refer you to Mr. McHenry, for whom I worked, who knows all about my condition, and from whom I bought the medicine. I live with my wife and family at 39 James St., Allegheny City, Pa. Signed, JOHN D. COX.

"August Flower"

It was a pretty sight to see the continual cluster of people in front of a Broadway window opposite Union square, for the window contained the portrait of the "good gray poet," the late Walt Whitman, and at the time that was mortal of him was being borne to the little tomb of his own selection. This was the tribute of the passing throng to his immortality. All day long the people paused and looked and silently passed on, nodding approvingly.

It was the "Walt" of fifteen years ago—the hale, robust, leonine man, who then sought the daily companionship of a certain Washington street car driver, and could be seen standing beside the latter on the front platform discoursing upon the philosophy of life. The world might reasonably envy that car driver, who was not only permitted to love and have the companionship of the poet, but was himself highly esteemed for what he was. They were often seen walking in the fields and woods together.

The world has greatly changed toward the poet since then, thanks to foreign appreciation, and the dear old man went to his simple grave known to all the cultured nations of the earth. Nobody is likely to contest his will, for he left behind him only the record of an undying love for all created things.—New York Herald.

An Automatic Cutout.

An new design in automatic cutouts for electric lighting instruments has recently been brought out. The instrument is so arranged that the current passing through the solenoid attracts a core which is attached to an arm about which it swings. When the current exceeds a certain limit the core is drawn into the solenoid and raises a lever, which in turn releases the switch and opens the circuit. If, as in the case of stationary motors supplied from central stations, the current is suddenly cut off when changing from one machine to another, the circuit is automatically opened by the tension spring which engages the small lever by withdrawing the core from the solenoid and thereby raising the lever, which releases the switch the same as when overloaded.

The tension spring is so arranged that it can be made to open the circuit for any predetermined amount of current. One of the main features of the cutout is that it does away with all fuses, which is usually a large item of expense in central stations. It can readily be applied to railroad circuits by using magnetic blowouts at the switch contact. The cutout has been given practical tests and found to work very satisfactorily.—New York Telegram.

A Cow Killed by a Turtle.

One day last week Richard Mock, of Miller county, after milking a fine milk cow he owns turned her out in the woods, and she wended her way down to Aycock's creek to slake her thirst some time during the day, and while engaged in drinking was seized by the nose by a loggerhead turtle and her head pulled under the water and held there until she drowned.

Failing to return home that night, Mr. Mock made search for her, and found her lying with her head under the water, her body on land, quite dead, the turtle still having his hold. Mr. Mock called help, and dragging the cow out, drew the turtle out also, he refusing to let go the cow's nose. The turtle was killed and weighed fifty pounds, his shell being as large as a large bread tray.—Bainbridge (Ga.) Democrat.

Paper Covered Bullets.

In consequence of the enormous initial velocity of the bullet in the new Mannlicher rifle and the resulting friction and wear on the barrel it has become necessary to devise some method of preventing both these evils. The manager of the government laboratory at Thun, Switzerland, has consequently devised a method of enclosing the leaden bullet in a thin metallic covering, while over this he places a wrapper of specially prepared oleaginous paper, which reduces the wear of the rifle barrel to a minimum without interfering with the course of the bullet.—Philadelphia Record.

The Queen's Jester.

The death of William Walllett, the queen's jester, has probably brought that office—which, of course, was self conferred—to an end. He seems to have been quite a fountain of humor in his own person, for he was also the first circus joker to entitle himself a "Shakespearean clown." This class is graver and more sententious than the other, and on the whole affects paterfamilias, when he brings his children to see the horsemanship, with a less excessive melancholy.—London Illustrated News.

Ladies

Do you want to keep your husband home at night, and keep him agreeable and pleasant? He must smoke, and yet you don't like the smell of his tobacco. You can drive him away to his club—out of just such things come misery, unhappiness and divorce. The trouble is that he uses poor tobacco. Coax him to get BLACKWELL'S BULL DURHAM SMOKING TOBACCO; its delicate aroma will not be offensive to you, and it will not fill all the curtains, hangings and clothing with that stale disagreeable odor that now troubles you. Keep your husband home, and avoid all risks by having him smoke BULL DURHAM TOBACCO. Sold everywhere.
